REDS FOILED.

A Dynamite Plot in Madrid Thwarted.

An Attempt Made to Blow Up the Chamber of Deputies.

Two Anarchists Caught with Bombs in their Hands.

Other Foreign News—Deeming will Plead Insanity—Mrs. Montague Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment—A Coolie Massacre.

By Telegram to The Times.
MADRID, April 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Great excitement was caused today by the discovery of an anarchist plot to blow up the Chamber of Deputies. The police had received information that two foreign anarchists were conspiring with Spanish anarchists to blow up public buildings. This afternoon the suspects, a Frenchman named Duval and a Portuguese named Furiera, left their houses, each carrying a parcel wrapped in newspapers. The police watched them. At the Cortes building both placed themselves before the door leading to the Chamber of Deputies. The police then decided to arrest them. They had conical bombs inclosed in cast-iron cases, each having a three-minute fuse. The bombs weighed eight pounds each. The prisoners, who had the appearance of workmen, were conveyed to the Ministry of the Interior and searchingly examined. Documents were found on them containing the orders of the Cosmopolitan Society, according to which they were to blow up the Chamber of Deputies, the Senate, law courts, Council of State, Ministry of War, Royal palaces and Bank of Spain in the order named, the work to be completed before May 1. Each prisoner made a confession, but it is not known whether they gave a clue to their fellow conspirators or the scope of their plots. The prisoners admit connection with the Paris anarchists. BRUSSELS, April 4.—Two dynamite cartridges exploded today in a frame house occupied by the foreman of the mine Seraling. The house was considerably damaged, but no one was injured.

MRS. MONTAGUE SENTENCED.
Given One Year at Hard Labor for Killing Her Child.

DUBLIN, April 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Mrs. Montague, charged with cruelty toward her children and causing the death of one of them by tying her up by her hands in such a way that she was strangled to death, has been found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to imprisonment for one year at hard labor.

Counsel for defense asked the jury to avoid the influence of the savage outcry against the prisoner. She might have made a mistake in correcting her children under the stern idea of duty, but that was without criminality. The prisoner wept copiously as her counsel proceeded to make a sympathetic appeal to the jury. He said she was the greatest sufferer by the death of her children and she was also about to become a mother—her eighth child. The verdict was accompanied with a recommendation to mercy on the ground that the prisoner had acted under a mistaken sense of duty.

Disastrous Result of a Strike.
LONDON, April 4.—The effects of the coal miners' strike in Durham promise most disastrous results. Coal in the large factories is almost gone and soon many failures of well-known firms are expected. All berths on the river Tyne are filled with idle vessels. Coal yards upon which whole communities depend for a living are idle. There is a grave crisis in trade and industry in the north of England.

Argentine Excitement Cooling Down.
BUENOS AYRES, April 4.—Excitement in consequence of the Radical attempt to overthrow the government is quieting. The decisive action of the authorities in ordering large detachments to the city put a damper on revolution. No further trouble is anticipated.

Floods in New South Wales.
SYDNEY (N. S. W.), April 4.—Heavy floods are prevailing. The Lismore River has overflowed its banks, sweeping away houses and destroying crops. Several persons were drowned.

Insanity Will be Deeming's Plea.
MELBOURNE, April 4.—Deeming's solicitor will interpose as a defense for his client a plea of insanity, and has telegraphed to England for evidence of Deeming's madness when a boy.

Coolies Massacred.
CALCUTTA, April 4.—Ushata raiding in the rear of the British columns surprised a party working for an English tea planter and massacred thirty-eight coolies, besides capturing others. The English family escaped.

War in Dahomey.
PARIS, April 4.—Government advices from Porto Novo, Dahomey, report that the natives are advancing with large reinforcements. It is expected they will attack Porto Novo today.

Remored Disaster on the Black Sea.
ST. PETERSBURG, April 4.—It is reported that a steamer on the Black Sea with 200 passengers was lost with all on board. The steamer was greatly overloaded.

A Missing Boating Party.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Yesterday afternoon five boys, named Peter Connolly, James Adams, James Hines, Edward Hathaway and Willie Pierce, paid a visit to Long Bridge and secured a boat and were seen paddling about the waters of the bay. There was quite a breeze blowing, and when night began to come on the boys had not returned. A searching party was made up, but up to a late hour no trace of them had been found.

ATTACKED BY SAILORS.

A Deputy Marshal Roughly Handled by Union Men at San Diego.
SAN DIEGO, April 4.—[By The Associated Press.] A deputy marshal from San Francisco, who came down on the steamer Corona in charge of the non-union sailors for the ship America at San Pedro, was assaulted by several union seamen on the street this evening, just before the Corona left. He was unarmed, but succeeded in keeping the men off. He went on board the steamer to get a revolver for the purpose of going after the men who had attacked him, but was restrained by men on board the steamer. Just as the vessel was leaving he saw his assailants in a crowd on the wharf and pointed them out to officers who will arrest them.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

Municipal Elections in Various Parts of the East.

Republican Gains in Ohio and Indiana—A Stand-off Claimed in Michigan—Close of the Rhode Island Campaign.

By Telegram to The Times.
CHICAGO, April 4.—[By The Associated Press.] Municipal elections were held today pretty generally in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Iowa. Returns from Michigan and Indiana show Republican gains in most places. The same is true of Northern Ohio as far as heard from. Evansville, Ind., was captured by the Republicans, who also secured several cities of Iowa. Dubuque, as usual, is Democratic. The party secured some other towns. Prohibition was the issue in most cases.

THE RHODE ISLAND CAMPAIGN.

Closing Scenes of the Canvass—Speculation as to the Result.

PROVIDENCE (R. I.), April 4.—The preparatory work for the State election on Wednesday is about over. Indications point to the election of a Republican majority in the Legislature. Their State ticket is likely to fall of election, with the Democrats securing a plurality. This, however, will be of no avail if the Legislature is Republican.

The Republican campaign reached its climax tonight in a dinner given to Secretary Tracy by the Young Men's Republican Club of Providence at Infantry Hall, where covers were laid for 1140 guests. Secretary Tracy and Senator Aldrich sat on the right and left of President Kendall, surrounded by a distinguished company on the platform.

Tracy in the course of his speech referred to the work of the present administration and said that the coming Presidential election would be largely influenced by the judgment which the country passed upon the President and his administration. He said that since the days of Jefferson and Madison no administration had encountered so many difficult questions of foreign policy. The Secretary then took up the Cabinet department, and the remainder of his address reviewed the achievements of each of the members.

Election at Helena, Mont.

HELENA (Mont.), April 4.—The Democrats today elected John C. Curtin mayor by a majority of 548. The Republicans carried the city last year by 489. The Democrats also elected six out of eight aldermen, giving them the control of the City Council. The Republicans elected the treasurer by a small majority and also the police magistrate.

People's Party in Sonoma County.

SANTA ROSA, April 4.—A convention, in response to a call of the State Central Committee, assembled here today to form the People's party. A permanent organization was effected. A county central committee and delegates to the State convention were elected.

Democratic Methods in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—The Canvassing Committee of the Democratic primaries, notwithstanding the protest of the McEnery members, threw out the contested polls in the Eighth and Ninth Wards and left Foster with a majority of 485.

Republican Gains in Ohio.

CLEVELAND (O.), April 4.—The Republicans carried the municipal election here today by a comfortable plurality. Returns from other northern towns show some Republican gains.

Investigating the "Sweating" System.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The Congressional Committee, investigating the "sweating" system in various places, began work here today. The members visited a number of places where cigars are given out to be made in tenement houses and cloaks to be made by women and children in miserable hovels. A number of manufacturers under this system will be called and startling testimony is expected.

A Brakebeam Elder Killed.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), April 4.—A man named James E. Vernon was killed near San Simon, on the Southern Pacific, while riding a brakebeam on a freight train. Both legs were cut off. The man died instantly. He had $450 in his pocket at the time and from a letter in his pocket it was learned that he had been working in the vicinity of San Francisco.

Tornadoes Again Sweep Over Kansas.

Many Dwellings Wrecked and a Few Persons Killed.

An Illinois Village Almost Obliterated by a Cyclone.

A Furious Blizzard Raging in Nebraska and the Dakotas—Deep Snow and Heavy Gales in Colorado—Trains Blocked.

By Telegram to The Times.

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—[By The Associated Press.] A storm of great intensity prevailed last night in Kansas and Western Missouri. Telegraph wires, only partially restored, were again laid to the ground. Advices are meager. As far as known they are as follows:

At Cherryvale, Kan., six houses were destroyed and two people killed. At Burlington 100 houses had windows broken by hail and much damage was done fruit trees and crops. The hail-stones are said to have been eight inches in circumference.

There was a similar storm at Emporia and much damage at Fort Scott. Many roofs were blown away. Stables were demolished and outhouses blown down. Several people were painfully injured, but there was no loss of life. At Garland nearly every window in the town was smashed and crops in the surrounding country were greatly damaged.

At Bosworth six houses were demolished in the path of the storm. The storm besides being similar to a tornado was accompanied by a water spout, which flooded all the creeks. Wankunka Creek is out of its banks. The roads are inundated and fields for miles are under water. Crops are entirely washed out and farmers will be obliged to replant.

Advices from all over Kansas report the prevalence of a gale and grave counts of damage, which, however, are confined in all cases to leveled dwellings, broken windows and signs and wrecked roofs.

In this city the wind blew a hurricane during the entire afternoon, and schools were dismissed, but there was no cyclone and the damage was slight.

CHERRYVALE (Kan.), April 4.—A mile east of here last night a tornado demolished half a dozen houses and killed two persons, names unknown. Dexter, Cowley county, is also reported to have suffered by the wind. The barometer is falling and another storm is looked for. An inkly cloud is said to be hanging over the southwest of Arkansas.

A BLIZZARD RAGING.

A Cold Wave in Nebraska and the Dakotas—Deep Snow.

ST. PAUL, April 4.—Dispatches from the Northwest tell of severe snowstorms. Snow is prevailing with great force in the Dakotas. At Redfield, S. D., tonight a genuine blizzard is raging. Moisture has already retarded seeding ten days and this will set it back more.

OMAHA (Nebr.), April 4.—Reports from western and central Nebraska and South Dakota show that a severe blizzard is in progress. The mercury fell 40° in three hours at Grand Lodge, and a norther is prevailing with the worst snowstorm of the season along the Burlington in the Black Hills. At Alliance, Neb., trains are snowed in. A heavy snowstorm is raging between Valentine and Chadron and Senia in Eastern Colorado. Wires are down in nearly all directions and trains are delayed. There is a blockade in the northwest.

Colorado Gets a Taste.

JULYBURG (Colo.), April 4.—Charles Rosenquest, J. T. Gorham and Joseph Cleveland, together with two daughters were living in a barn which was blown away this morning. They were soon covered in the snow drift but managed to keep alive till rescued. Intense cold froze their limbs, fingers and feet, but they will recover.

The loss in cattle and horses in the surrounding country is very large. Union Pacific trains are detained by a train wrecked in the snow drifts. No one injured.

An Illinois Village Wiped Out.

FARFIELD (Ill.), April 4.—A report has reached here that Barnhill, seven miles south, was almost entirely wiped out by a cyclone this afternoon. It was learned later that three houses are left standing in the town. Mrs. Herrey was fatally injured and other people were painfully hurt. No further particulars are at hand.

A Gale in Pennsylvania.

GREENSBURG (Pa.), April 4.—A terrific wind, hail and rain storm prevailed in this locality last night. At Scottsdale the brownstone buildings of Everson were blown down or unroofed. People were panic stricken. Much damage was done.

The Storm in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, April 4.—A severe wind and rainstorm in Eastern and Western Arkansas today did much damage to buildings. Several houses were blown into the river at Pine Bluff. At Carlisle H. Filbert's home was demolished.

A Skirmish With Yaquis.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), April 4.—A special to the Republican from Hermosillo, Mexico, says that a courier from San Miguel district of Ures has just arrived and reports a fight between Mexican troops and Yaqui Indians at the Gabilan mines. Two Yaquis were killed and one wounded. No soldiers were hurt. The affray grew out of the arrest of several Yaquis suspected of gathering ammunition and arms for a raid. The Indians resisted arrest, which led to a general fight.

A Stand-off in Michigan.

Detroit (Mich.), April 4.—The Free Press (Democratic) says that reports indicate that the gains of one party offset those of the other.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

AT THE OPERAHOUSE—Il Trovatore.
AT THE THEATRE—Sir Stump Simple.

"VETERAN" makes some just observations relative to the "Oxpress" and its inflated editor.

What of the next United States Senatorship? May not Southern California figure in the race?

No Bering Sea jingoism will appear in the Minneapolis convention to "whop up" the President's candidature. No.

Col. Dudley loves Mr. Harrison with a consuming love, and stays up 'nights to do it. So does "Charles F. Murchison" of Pomona.

When Matt Quay returns from Florida and Clarkson reappears upon the scene the mobilization of the anti-Harrison Republican forces will begin. Then "look a leedle oodt" Benjamin!

A LETTER of great interest from Washington is printed this morning. It relates to the publication of that extensive Government work entitled "The War of the Rebellion; Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies."

MAJOR WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Jr., embodies in his own person, more than any other American statesman, the great idea of protection to American industries, upon which line the Republicans must fight the impending political battle.

SOME salty remarks on the subject of second and third Presidential terms, made by one of the early Presidents—William Henry Harrison by name—are in store and will be trotted out in the "garish light of day" one of these sunny, semi-tropic mornings.

THE graceful and graphic historical sketch of Columbus and of Isabel, the Catholic Queen of Spain, by Mrs. Antonio F. Coronel, published in these columns yesterday, has been read with interest. Its diction is fine and it constitutes a valuable addition to the records of the Historical Society.

The sending of John Sherman to the Minneapolis convention by the Republicans of Ohio would be a striking and appropriate thing to do. Mr. Sherman is claimed for Harrison, but when it comes to the test we anticipate that he will be found in the camp of his friend and loyal supporter, Maj. McKinley.

THE gathering of the Republican storm over the head of President Harrison is described in a graphic letter to the Chicago Herald. The portents are ominous, and if the opposition to him can be concentrated before the meeting of the Minneapolis convention, his way to a renomination will be made difficult.

COL. SWORDS of Washington (sergeant-at-arms of the National Republican Committee) now in Southern California, has been feeling his way westward, with one eye on Minneapolis and the other on the incumbent of the White House. Col. Swords will report back to Chairman Clarkson on the aspects of the field.

THE authorities of Hocking county, Ohio, are already devoting their attention to "the Salt Creek pike question." It is a little early in the season, but a great many people (principally Democrats) will want to go that way pretty soon, and, if the navigation of the creek is not good, there will be no objection to their taking the pike. Yes, it had better be put in repair.

A new paper called "The Industrial Age" (weekly) appeared last Saturday in the city. It is a creditable-looking quarto of 48 columns, filled with industrial intelligence, skillfully compiled. The tone and contents of the paper indicate a purpose on the part of the conductors to handle industrial subjects upon their merits, without narrowness, bigotry, prejudice, ignorance, dishonesty, or venom. There is room in California for such a journal.

THE Stockton Mail very properly concludes that the board of Railroad Commissioners in this State is an expensive fifth wheel to the vehicle of State. Experience proves that it is impossible to elect a board that will not fall under the influence of the railroad company, which is a sad reflection upon the prevailing morality in official life in this State. If the railroad company is able to control two out of every three commissioners that the people elect the Mail thinks it would be cheaper if not better to do away with the board and let the railroad transact its business with the Legislature. We could have a change of Legislature every two years and might some time by chance get an honest one, but a dishonest Railroad Commission is saddled upon the State for four years. It seems to be high time for a change.

Fruit Shipments—Some Interesting Figures.

We have before you a pamphlet embodying the proceedings of the California State Board of Trade at its session on March 8. Besides a report of the routine business transacted there are papers from Gen. N. P. Chipman on the fruit industries of California, and on the rivers and harbors of the State. Both are valuable documents. That on fruit interests is especially interesting, as it gives comparative tables of shipments from Northern and Southern California, the dividing point being Tehachapi.

Comparative Shipments from North and South California—1891.

	FROM NORTH.	FROM SOUTH.
	Pounds.	Pounds.
Green decid.	77,266,000	21,414,100
Dried	9,492,221	9,492,221
Raisins	35,484,000	9,470,850
Nuts	900,000	1,723,560
Canned	44,896,000	4,670,680
Deciduous—
Total by rail	214,214,000	46,701,410
Total by sea	10,087,214
	224,301,214
Citrus by rail	98,000	93,764,800
Total by sea	220,535,440	140,466,810

Thus it appears that about 85 per cent. of the deciduous fruit went from Northern California, while practically all of the citrus fruits went from Southern California.

Compared with the shipments of 1890 it appears that there was a falling off in canned fruit amounting to 778 carloads. But there was an increase of green and citrus fruits combined amounting to 2801 carloads. This, it should be borne in mind, was an advance over what was considered a phenomenal year (1890), when California crops were abundant and there was almost a total failure of fruits in the East. "The lesson of these figures," Gen. Chipman says, "is an important one," and he adds:

If this fruit had gone to the canners at the usual prices it would have relieved the necessity of excessive green fruit shipments at smaller profits. But the canners could not contract for sufficient quantities of goods at remunerative prices in the East, and this arose from the large fruit crop East; and I think from the further reason that in 1890 our prices were so high that only the luxurious rich could buy, and this drove the general consumers to resort to substitutions in 1891.

This board has made commendable efforts to extend our dried fruit markets into the United Kingdom, and if these efforts had been seconded or aided adequately by the fruit-growers and the dealers we would have been prepared by another year to extend our markets to other countries than our Eastern States, and where prices would be even more favorable.

Our fruit-growers must give more intelligent attention to the markets or they must expect recurrences of 1891.

There is no kind of doubt that the United Kingdom and the continent would constantly increase the consumption, and, together with our own markets, take all the fruit we are likely to grow for many years, and I think that we must introduce and push our goods, if we would sell them. We had to seek even our own Eastern markets and push ourselves into them; and so we must elsewhere.

The canned fruits shipped by sea in 1891 amounted to 15,228,440 pounds, or 763 carloads. Of this 172,078 cases went to England, none went to France and only 8 cases to Germany.

Canned fruits show a decrease for the preceding year of 1527 carloads. There was also a decrease in the shipments of dried fruits, other than raisins and prunes.

The figures are:

noted in figs.

In the shipment of dried fruits the North gained about 875 carloads, while the South lost about 926 carloads.

The South produces about all of the walnuts and the North about all of the almonds.

The South lost 6,054,150 pounds in raisin shipments and the North gained 8,884,520 pounds. The increase was nearly all in the Fresno district.

The shipments of citrus fruits are given in detail as follows:

Shipped From	Boxes.	Cars.
Los Angeles county.....	632,071	2,213
San Bernardino county.....	487,882	1,708
Orange county.....	147,332	516
Ventura county.....	19,475	68
San Diego county.....	18,861	68
San Barbara county.....	6,478	23

This shows less than the actual total, the railroad figures giving an aggregate of 4695 carloads.

This is about 35 per cent. gain in one year and shows very rapid increase. In the North the increase does not show by shipments east, for the reason that the home market absorbs so much more than the output. But the industry is in a hopeful condition at the points where plantings have been made in considerable areas. The plantations are yet young, but are steadily increasing.

Gen. Chipman says:
The fruit-growing industry is increasing very rapidly; but a serious and ever present factor in the market of our products. Our growers seem to be lending all their energies to produce new orchards, while only a few steps to consider the market. In the sense that wheat is an article of food, fruit is not; although it is fast becoming a necessity in well-to-do families everywhere. Wheat will sell itself, and will stand long storage and long voyages, but fruit will not. The greatest need at this moment to permanent success are intelligent and adequate methods to reach consumers. We already know that the people want our fruit, we don't yet know the best way to place it within their reach. The transportation companies, I think, can be relied upon to aid in extending our markets. But we must go to them with intelligent exhibits of the business as a whole, and show them the importance of maintaining it at profitable rates to the grower.

There is no doubt in my mind that a transportation company that can haul sugar for 60 cents a hundred from San Francisco to St. Louis, or asphaltum from Fresno to New York for even less, can haul fruit for less than $1.50 per hundred pounds, when the business requires it. But it will not be done so long as the transportation companies have reason to believe that fruit-growers are making enormous profits at present rates.

The fruit-growers have created for the transportation companies, in ten years, an annual tonnage of over 17,000 carloads of eastbound fruit, and there has been practically no freight displaced in doing this; it is constantly being gained to the railroad companies. In 1891 we raised the largest wheat crop for ten years.

So important a factor as this in railroad business cannot escape the observant men at the head of our railroad interests. It has shown this by reductions from $1200 a car at the beginning to $300 a car to New York City, the present rate. I am satisfied, however, that the industry now requires still further concessions, and I am also satisfied that they can be obtained by an intelligent and business-like presentation of the needs of the industry.

We can give the railroad companies 30,000 carloads annually, if they will let us, and that in a very few years. I predict that our fruit shipments for 1892 will reach 30,000 carloads, and will not be surprised if they went to 25,000 carloads; and with wine and brandy added we may reach 25,000 carloads.

REV. DR. PARKHURST of New York City is a preacher who believes in active and aggressive Christianity. When, in a sermon preached five weeks ago, he denounced the Tammany government of New York for standing in with law-breaking in almost every form, he was met with the objection that he uttered only glittering generalities. Then he went out "slumming" on his own account, and he set five detectives at work looking up specifications. He even gathered points on some of the Tammany leaders themselves. In his sermon delivered on the 13th inst., to the surprise of many of the congregation, he told them that during the past week he had, between the hours of midnight and 8 o'clock in the morning, sat in the company of women of "a class almost too disreputable to be even named in this presence." As a result of the researches of himself and his detectives Dr. Parkhurst announced that he had legal evidence in the shape of affidavits against a long array of law-breakers. He gave a report of 254 saloons found open in violation of law, and 2488 people found present therein. He is stirring up the police department with a hot poker, and promises to lead a campaign against Tammany and Satan which will do the city of New York some good.

With the United States cruiser Charleston and the French man-of-war Champlain already in port at San Diego, and the Baltimore and Boston soon to arrive the San Diegans are promised a season of conviviality such as they have not enjoyed for a long time. And the average San Diegan will be in fine trim for conviviality, swelled up with pride over the fact that there are four war-ships on hand at the same time and no war. The proud attitude of the ancient Continental, who stands for the "Pet" cigar, fairly represents the average Bayonnette man these days.

As a part of the Santa Clara county exhibit at the World's Fair Dr. Mintie, superintendent of the county commission, proposes to plant upon the grounds a prune, an apricot and an almond tree, so that the visitors to the fair can see them bud, blossom and fruit.

It is said that President Eliot's faith in the Mormons was nearly wrecked when he encountered a man high in the Mormon Church at Salt Lake who had never heard of Harvard University.

The San Diego Sun (there is only one of it now) has changed from an evening to a morning paper.

The second consignment of smallpox this year has reached San Francisco by steamer from China.

President Eliot's Way.

[San Jose Mercury.]

The speech of President Eliot, of Harvard University, at Salt Lake City, in which he compared the Mormons very favorably with the Puritans, has stirred up more angry criticism than any speech of the year. Eliot is always making the kind of speeches that shock the country. When he was first chosen president of Harvard University he said in a public address that Harvard was but little better than a high school and would need a revolution to make it a university. This gave Massachusetts a shock that fatigued emotion. Only a year or so ago he made a speech in Philadelphia on newspapers that brought the whole press down on him, and last year he made one in St. Louis on Western idealism, finance that actually succeeded in making St. Louis and Chicago howl together in perfect accord and union. The fact is, President Eliot is one of the men who makes the whole country shake when he wags his tongue, and he never goes out on a tour but what he makes a speech somewhere that riles up all the bile in the American people and gets for Harvard University more free advertising than it could pay for if it used all its annual income for that purpose.

McKinley on the Front Line.

[San Francisco News Letter.]

A week ago it looked as though President Harrison would have a walk-over at Minneapolis, but now there may be heard whisperings among Republicans here in San Francisco that possibly it would be better policy to nominate Governor McKinley of Ohio. McKinley is a Republican victory over Gov. Campbell last year has not been forgotten, and there is evidently a strong undercurrent of Republican sentiment in his favor. McKinley is a genuine representative of the policy of protection, and it is by no means impossible that he may receive the Republican nomination.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

GRAND-OPERAHOUSE—Emma Juch came back to us last night and the opera was La Traviata. The Grand contained a fine audience that was not backward in bestowing applause, which was nobly earned. The prima donna sang with the same smoothness that she exhibited in the days ago, but in the dramatically unhealthful sphere of a musical "Camille" she is not seen to her best advantage. To be sure, in the first and second acts, she was the same brilliant woman with a voice scarily powerful that we saw and heard as "Ella" in La Traviata. In the opera of that name, but the disfigurement made necessary for the simulation of a pulmonary taking off, which closes the last act, marred much of the pleasure of the production. The exquisite tones with which the car was regaled.

In the first act Miss Juch was a being of beauty and tenderness, and sang Verdi's Forza del destino with effect. In the drinking song and in the duet with "Alfredo Germont" (Mr. Michienzi), she earned and received a ringing round of applause.

Her acting of the role of "Violetta" was quite equal to her handling of it vocally, which is equivalent to saying that it was so good that it was a pity to see a critic could pick a saw in the interpretation.

Mr. Mertens as "Giorgio Germont" scored a most distinct success. At the close of the first act, when he sang the "Viva la Traviata," the house rose at him with cheers and bravos and would not let the curtain remain down until he had repeated a stanza. He was perhaps the most magnificent bit of baritone singing ever heard in this city and stamped Mr. Mertens as one of the greatest artists now on the stage. Mr. Michienzi displayed some huskiness in his voice, but in the beautiful love passages sang with great sweetness and beauty. He made a strikingly handsome "Alfredo" and was thoroughly satisfactory. The other roles were well sung, and the chorus was much better than in some of the operas given during the recent engagement. The work of the orchestra was commendable, the venture being played with special excellence.

Tonight Il Trovatore will be given with the following cast:

Ferrando.....Joseph Rubo
The female under the age of 18 years, or upward, Leonora.....Helen Parpa
Azucena.....Gertrude May Stein

LOS ANGELES THEATRE—A company of actors calling themselves "The Strolling Players," opened a three nights' engagement at this house last night in Sir Simon Simple, the following cast:

Sir Simon Simple, not too good a school as ever looks.....Mr. George H. Trader
Isabel, not too "doctid" quick.....Miss Nellie Young
Mr. Mould, who imbibed, among other things, a taste for poetry, Mr. H.G. Hocking
Mrs. Mould, his worst hat.....Miss Nellie Young
Mr. Murgatroy, who loves and hates.....Mr. Merton
Mrs. Merton, woman with a mystery.....Mrs. Gerald Harelet
Simon, 17 of the same old, same old, same old, for Felicia.....Mr. Thomas Kierns
Felicia, the counterpart of Isabel.....Miss Nellie Young Rider, a handy coachman.....Mr. George W. Bosworth

A fair house greeted them and applause was quite lavished. The company, mother and Alcazar Theater in San Francisco and has been quite successful on the southern circuit.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Olive Oil—Tin—Sardines—A Triple Alliance.

POMONA, April 4.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] In a valuable article in yesterday's Times it was stated that there was an opening at Catalina for a sardine cannery. We may reasonably expect that in the near future California will reap the rich profits of that industry, as her shores are fringed with those fishes of excellent quality, and with the establishment of plate tin works at Tomales, the tin for the cans will be close at hand, while our olive orchards will be able to furnish with which to seal the product.

JOHN S. CALKINS.

"Fits."

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The following coarse and unfeeling slurs upon an old soldier, were printed by Mr. Osborne in the Evening Express of yesterday:

The choice seats were all occupied at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon when Baliff Appel rung up the curtain at Justice Austin's regular Monday morning session. Baliff was the first to step to the front. He was picked up on Alameda street by Officer Kahn. To the Court Baliff said: "If it please Your Honor, I am subject to fits, and in the county hospital I was told that it affects me even to see a drunken man on the street. I am taken." "You may go," said the Court, "but I advise you to keep away from saloons that keep closed doors on the Sabbath day hereafter."

"Thank you," remarked the battle-scarred veteran, as he took a seat just made vacant by the District Attorney. "I was about to say to you, Judge, that—"

"You can go home," shouted the baliff. "You can go to the Home at any time. You see when I was in the Forty-seventh Regiment Gov—"

But at this moment an old comrade shut the door to him—very stoutly stating that he was not a member of the Forty-seventh Regiment.

Now I am myself a Veteran of the Union army, and though happily not subject to "fits" nor to drunkenness, nor compelled to go to the Soldiers' Home, I see no occasion for any one to cast as much abuse as the above on a less fortunate comrade. Does "Capt. Osborne of San Pedro," as he is lately designated himself in his own editorial columns (though I believe he is only a militia captain anyway) think he can "dew" the old privates by such contemptuous and unmanly slurs as he has printed in his paper? He is a new-born and unwise seer for strikers and coppers, professional "labor advocates," is "the captain" not deceiving himself by incurring the hostility of the veterans? Many an old soldier who is now "down on his luck," sick, decrepit—even drunken—and a member of the home, provided by a good Government, would rather be a hero and a patriot. Let such men be treated with charity and kindness, not insulted publicly in coarse and cruel language like that used by "Capt. Osborne" in his paper yesterday in such ungentlemanly and unwarranted fashion.

VETERAN.

Letter from Tacoma—California Frosted Oranges.

TACOMA (Wash.) March 26.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Our great dread in coming to the Puget Sound region was the winter, but that like many specters of life, has passed away without being as terrible as was anticipated. We have purposely delayed writing until we could give a fair and full account of this least agreeable season of the year. The closing months of '91 were rainy and unpleasant to an extreme degree. The "Siwash" inhabitants declared that it had never rained so hard or so long without any let up. The moisture in November and December was excessive, and had to be measured by feet instead of inches. The rains were interspersed with storms of unusual severity and culminated in a snow squall during the holidays. With the advent of '92 came a decided change for the better. When California rains set in, a little rain, but no doubt but the delayed rains of your section in November and December were tending with the Storm King north of the Siwash, hence our double portion.

For the past three months the winter weather has been perfect. January was cool, with light fog, and a wet, rainy, foggy lower coast. They had smoky density, and penetration peculiar to this section. February was genial and spring-like, with showers. March has been faultless, with clouds and rain, and a plenty of a beauty to the sky. Gardening and planting of all kinds have been in progress for a full month or six weeks. The grape has been with us a little late in coming, but he has more than made up for all delays. His motto seems to be, "Let no guilty man escape." Whole families and whole communities have had it in turn, but no fatal case has come to our notice as yet; coughs and colds by the hundreds are left behind as unpleasant reminders of this destroyer's visit.

During the past two months we have been made to blush for our beloved California more than ever. This county has been filled with the detested frosted oranges from your section—no matter whether from there or not, poor Riverside gets the credit for the whole business. Wardens of tasteless, useless stuff are peddled out among the people and on the business streets as "fine Riverside oranges" at 10 cents a dozen. Think of it! Every miserable seedling and frosted navel goes as "Riverside." They know no other name. When the people get them and cut them open they are very much like the apples of Sodom. If they don't turn to ashes they produce brimstone or something that reminds one of it. It would have been far better to have dumped them out to the swine or let them lie in the orchard, as 'Taz Times prudently advised. Dealers not advised of the cause which has taken the "life" all out of the California orange are constantly comparing them with the Florida article, much to the disadvantage of the former. We have not the least doubt but the market will feel the ill effects of such folly for years to come.

We have watched Foster's forecasts in THE TIMES with considerable interest up to this way. His storms start out up here on the coast and move across the Cascades with unfailing regularity, coinciding with his dates in many instances.

We have had with us for the past two months Rev. George L. Cole of Los Angeles, whose work among our churches in California has been very successful. The churches of Tacoma would keep him steadily at work if he would consent to stay. He left here on a lecture tour to the town of Yosemite Valley, in connection with the large oil painting, attracts wide attention.

Local city politics engage the attention of the public at present. Seattle's Democratic landslide is confidently expected to influence the vote of Tacoma, which has been strongly Republican. We will wait and see what April 5 says. Tacoma registers 9003 voters, an advance of 2605 over the last registration.

P. H. BODKIN.

License and Consent.

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] There remain some few anomalies in our marriage laws that demand regulation. The daily papers, some time since, called attention to a case in which a destitute orphan girl, 14½ years of age, engaged herself to marry a man who had attained his majority. Under these circumstances the contracting party applied to the County Clerk for a license, but that officer did not feel justified in issuing this in view of the provision of section 36 of the Civil Code, which provides that "any unmarried male of the age of 18 years, or upward, and any unmarried female of the age of 15 years, or upward," etc., are capable of consenting to and consummating marriage. Before the marriage license is issued, the clerk must first obtain a license therefor, etc. That "if the male be under the age of 21, or the female under the age of 18 years, the consent of the father, mother, or guardian, or of one having the charge of such person," must be given in the manner provided.

To meet the requirement of this statute it appears that the youth, in this instance, was provided with the written consent of the maiden's guardian. But to no purpose; the law was only 14½, so the license could not issue.

And now, let us see how this law works in a hypothetical case: The Penal Code, Article 1, provides that a female of the age of 14 may consent to cohabit with any male, and when such consent is deliberate it is no body's business, and no act has been done which affects the peace or the dignity of the people. But as she has not attained her 15th year she shall not be permitted to conceal her disgrace by honorable marriage. She must now take up a meretricious relation or go to the dole for support. The force of circumstances and the requirements of the law. In this dilemma they sometimes betake themselves to the high seas, and an absurd law is evaded so to speak.

There is but little practical common sense in the statute that fixes the age of consent at one standard and that of license to wed at another.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Ex-Speaker Reed expresses the opinion that the Silver Bill will not come before Congress again this season.

Unity in the Republican party in Rhode Island is building up a strength with which Democrats cannot cope at the polls.

Ex-Congressman Henry L. Pierce (Dem.) of Massachusetts, expresses the opinion that neither Cleveland nor Hill could carry New York in a Presidential race.

The Sacramento Record-Union favors the renomination of President Harrison. This must be equivalent to a gentle waiver of all claims on the part of Senator Stanford.

Dr. R. H. McDonald, president of the Pacific Bank, San Francisco, offers ten prizes, ranging from $10 to $50 in gold, $500 in silver, to persons obtaining the highest average and highest, etc., number of names to accompany petitions, the signers to which pledge themselves to vote for the Prohibition candidates for President and Vice-President this fall, provided the signatures of 1,000,000 voters be secured in the meantime. Dr. McDonald's proposition is a bold one, and very stirring, that million voters' clause. He may be the Prohibition candidate himself.

The First American Flag.

[Boston Congressionalist.]

The first American flag that was saluted by a foreign nation is owned by Mrs. M. R. P. Stafford, of Cottage City, Mass. The flag has thirteen stripes and twelve stars. The patriotic ladies of Philadelphia presented it to John Paul Jones, whose name has become famous for his successful victories he gained for America. It floated from the mast of the Bon Homme Richard in its engagement with the Serapis, and was shot away and fell into the water. Mr. James Bayard Stafford, father of Mrs. Stafford's husband, a lieutenant, jumped into the water and saved it from an unmerciful fate. He was wounded by a British sword and disabled for life. After the war was over the flag was presented to him for meritorious service. Three thousand dollars have been offered for these old "stars and stripes." It was exhibited at the Centennial by Lieut. Stafford's daughter. At the inauguration of President Harrison it was carried in the procession.

"A Decided Novelty."

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

A decided novelty was the Kite-shaped Track special edition of THE LOS ANGELES TIMES, issued on Sunday last. In it the readers were treated to an attractive and unusually well-written description of the sights and scenes presented by a tour over the famous new Kite-shaped Track of the Santa Fe system in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Orange counties. Such a tour covers the major portion of the most attractive communities of the southern citrus belt, and ample justice was done them in the edition referred to, which is destined to have a wide circulation and do a vast amount of good for the places described.

$7000 a Year for Remembering Names.

A DAY IN CONGRESS.

Springer Given a Hearty Welcome by Friends and Foes.

The Debate on the Free Wool Bill Drawing to a Close.

A Sweeping Chinese Exclusion Act Passed by the House.

The Silver Question Comes Before the Senate—Morgan Revives the Charge that Sherman was the Author of Demonstration.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Mr. Springer was given a magnificent reception in the House today. Before his arrival some friend distributed scores of his favorite flowers, carnations, throughout the House and all Democrats and many Republicans wore them. His deak was piled high with flowers, and when he entered the House, after six weeks' absence, there was a tremendous outburst of applause. When he took his seat business was suspended ten minutes, members on both sides crowding around him.

When the House was in committee of the whole on the Free Wool Bill Mr. Springer announced that he had intended to make an elaborate speech, but the condition of his health would not permit and he had prepared a brief one, which would be read by Mr. Bryan.

The House today passed the Chinese Exclusion Bill after only thirty minutes' debate. The bill absolutely prohibits any Chinese, whether or not he be a subject of China, excepting diplomats and consular officers and servants, from entering the United States, and Chinese who may hereafter leave the United States are prohibited from returning to the country. It makes liable to arrest Chinese, or persons of Chinese descent, entering the United States or found unlawfully therein, and provides for their punishment by imprisonment not exceeding five years and subsequent removal to the country whence they come, provided that when they came by way of a contiguous foreign territory, they shall be returned to China. The last clause repeals all acts and treaties inconsistent with this act.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS. FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Senate.—The McGarran claim came up in the shape of a bill reported by the sub-committee to the Committee on Claims, giving McGarran a grant of the land so long claimed by him. It was placed on the calendar.

The resolutions calling for a report by the Treasury Department on the effect of the existing sugar legislation on the industry and condition of the country were laid before the Senate. Mr. Morgan expressed willingness to let them go over until tomorrow, so as not to stand in the way of the Indian Appropriation Bill. Finally, after some discussion, Mr. Dawes, in charge of the Indian Appropriation Bill, consented not to interfere with the measure, and, after Mr. Wolcott had given notice that he would address the Senate on the silver question on Wednesday morning, Mr. Morgan proceeded to address the Senate on his resolutions.

Mr. Morgan said he knew that the subject was one which struck the attention of Senators in an alarming way, because the people of the United States are very earnest in their desire to have some relief from existing financial conditions and embarrassments. He knew that the best of party stood in the way of a free expression of opinion by party men. Mr. Morgan went on to criticize the silver act of 1890. Mr. Morgan in the further course of his argument remarked incidentally that one of the consequences of the defeat of free silver legislation would be the nomination of Cleveland. He brought up again the old charge that Sherman was responsible for the demonstration of silver in 1873. If, said Mr. Morgan, Senators could forget Cleveland and Hill and other good men aspiring to the Presidency of the United States and look hands on the silver question, and say they would do all that wisdom and devoted love of country suggest, there would be no more trouble about the silver question.

Mr. Sherman said that to ascertain if the Senate wanted to enter on the silver debate he proposed to move to lay the resolutions on the table.

Mr. Allison asked if the resolutions had not gone to calendar. Mr. Sherman then remarked that they could not be taken up without motion.

Mr. Teller said the Senator from Ohio might as well make his statement now as any time, because the friends of silver were bound to debate it. He remarked that Mr. Sherman seemed anxious to stifle debate. This charge Mr. Sherman emphatically denied. He went on to defend the act and said it would with a proper amendment be made the fulcrum on which to raise the whole financial system of the country. He argued against free coinage and in closing said that he not only was willing to discuss the question, but desired to have it discussed. The matter then went over.

Adjourned.

House.—Mr. Geary called it up. He said it remedied defects of the existing law and effected the end desired.

Messrs. Hill and Crocker opposed the bill on the ground of violation of national faith in abrogating treaties.

Mr. Geary said the Chinese government had done everything in its power to violate the spirit of the treaty.

Messrs. Sherman of Oregon and Cutting of California favored the bill and it passed—179 to 48.

At 3 p.m. the House went into committee of the whole on the Free Wool Bill. Mr. Springer was not strong enough to speak. His speech was read by Mr. Bryan. Mr. Springer said that the Committee on Ways and Means asked the Bureau of Statistics to furnish a statement showing the prices of wool of like quality in the United States and Europe during the existence of the wool tariff from 1866 to this time.

The bureau referred the matter to S. N. D. North, secretary of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, and the special agents of the Census Office in charge of the wool statistics, that the statement furnished made a comparison between Ohio medium washed wool and port prices of Australian fleeces, which are considered of substantially the same quality. These prices when reduced to a gold basis show that the prices of these wools in London and Boston varied little from year to year to 1890, except during the unusual years of 1871 and 1872, in which prices were unusually affected by speculation. Leaving these out of account, it appears that for the remaining twenty-three years the average price of Port Phillips fleece was one-fourth of a cent per pound more than Ohio medium washed. In Boston when Port Phillips fleece is 20 cents per pound, if protection protects it would make the price of Ohio wool 20 cents greater. The fact that it is really lower in price than the Australian shows that American wool-growers do not receive any increase in price by reason of the tariff. The reason for this is that American wool manufacturers do not manufacture from American wool exclusively but mix with foreign wools. Cotton, shoddy and other adulterants as wool under the operation of the tariff cannot be exported. American wool-growers are confined to a restricted market under the conditions. The manufacture of foreign and domestic wools are not in competition, they must be used together, complementing each other for the manufacture of woolen goods acceptable to the market. With free wools the price of these goods would be reduced to the extent of the tariff on foreign goods used in their manufacture. This decrease in price would largely increase the manufacture and sale of such goods and so increase the demand for American wools at manufacturers; in other words, the cheapening of foreign wool by removal of the tariff benefits not only the wool-grower and woolen manufacturer, but it is of advantage to the general public who are consumers.

In conclusion Mr. Springer called attention to the fact that the placing of raw sugar on the free list in 1890 caused increased consumption of sugar to the amount of nearly 24 per cent. In 1891, and said that the passage of the present bill would have a similar effect in increasing the consumption of woolen goods and cause the starting up of 271 establishments idle during 1890 and would give employment to $74,000,000 capital, causing an increase in the use of materials worth $48,000,000. The demand for 61,000,000 pounds of domestic and 27,000,000 pounds more foreign wool would give employment to 23,000 hands with wages of $18,000,000. With increased demand prices of wool and labor will increase.

Mr. Burrows of Michigan moved to strike out the provision placing "all wools on the free list." Without action the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

"Lost" Means Lynched in Georgia. LITHONIA (Ga.) April 4.—The men who followed two negroes accused of the rape of Postmaster Brown's daughter, have returned, saying there was no use of further pursuit, as the negroes were "lost." It is generally understood that they were lynched.

THE GREAT TYCOON.

One Policeman at Least Whose Lot is a Happy One.

When Gilbert and Sullivan wrote the line "A policeman's life is not a happy one" and made it famous in one of their most popular operas, it is evident that they never heard of the "Great Tycoon" of the Los Angeles police department.

All policemen are not happy; in fact it is seldom that more than three or four out of a force of twenty able-bodied blue-coats ever smile. But when a policeman is happy he is the jolliest fellow in the world, and the "Great Tycoon" of this force is the prince.

He is not happy because he has a street-crossing in a fashionable part of town, nor because his beat is lined with comfortable stairways where he can sleep without being disturbed. This great man is a plain daylight jollier, according to the rules and regulations of the police commission, and his salary is not larger than any of the patrolmen.

One who is not acquainted with this great man cannot understand at first glance how he can be happy when it is remembered that he is compelled to come in contact with some of the lowest criminals in the city every day. He is among them eight or ten hours every day and all of them look on him as their boss and hate him with a hatred that cannot but be disagreeable under almost any circumstances.

The G. T. cares not the snap of his finger what the prisoners think of him as long as they obey orders, and they are in too much dread of him to cross him in the slightest degree.

But to see the G. T. in all his glory one must be present during one of his princely dinners. He dines in the jail, and as one of the prisoners is an excellent cook, the Tycoon lives on the fat of the land. His great dish is beef-steak and mashed potatoes, and, if those who have witnessed the feed are to be believed, the Tycoon always has his appetite with him.

Every jail has its "trusties," and the Tycoon is not behind his brothers in the profession, for he owns two or three of the best "trusties" that ever cleaned, filled and lit a swell jailor's pipe. These "trusties" know their business, and while one is replenishing either "speaks" or "spits" the other is either keeping the files out of the dishes or mixing the Tycoon's coffee and sugar.

The jealous members of the force, and especially the long-whiskered dude of the hurry-up wagon squad, have been talking about putting in a petition to the Board of Commissioners asking them to order a throne and all the traps that go with such an outfit for the Tycoon.

They have an insane idea that such a request will make the great man ashamed of himself and he will resign. This shows how little they know him, for there is nothing in the world that would give him more pleasure. He is now king of the gang, and he cannot understand why he should not be treated as such.

Yes, the Tycoon is a happy man, and if any one doubts the statement all he has to do is to visit the prison, while he is feeding.

To Induce Humility in a Peacock. [St. Louis Globe-Democrat.] If you wish to take the conceit out of a peacock, pull out his tail feathers and as soon as he finds the glory of his plumage gone he becomes the humblest, most subdued and ashamed-looking bird that ever walked the earth. A peacock in full feather is so vain and conceited as sometimes to be really troublesome. Not satisfied with squealing at the top of his discordant voice, and with parading himself through the yard and up and down the walks with expanded plumage, he will attack dogs, cats and even children, and has been known to seriously injure small boys or girls that were incautious enough to venture within his reach. Plucking his tail feathers, however, causes all his courage to evaporate. He will sneak around the yard like a whipped spaniel; will keep out of sight as much as possible, and you will hear nothing of him until his plumage has again grown.

Railroad Commissioners Want More Light from Leeds.

Another Alleged Greenwood Murderer Turns out to Be the Wrong Man—San Quentin Contracts Awarded—Other Coast News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Fresno wants the Democratic State Convention, and will very likely get it. There is a delegation of fifty here from that city button-holing members of the State Central Committee and they had secured enough promises last night to warrant them in telegraphing home that the convention will be held there. They urge that Fresno has never had a convention, though that section of the State has always been Democratic, and that country has never been represented on the State ticket.

The State Central Committee will have a good deal of business to transact. It will not take long to decide where the convention will be held, the date for holding it, which will be about the 28th of May, and the appointment of delegates; but the San Francisco political problem will occupy many hours of time.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

They Want More Information About the Traffic Association.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—[By the Associated Press.] At a meeting of the Railroad Commissioners today a dispatch was received, stating that the annual meeting of the Railroad Commissioners will be held in Washington, April 18.

A communication by Commissioner Rea was read questioning the objects of the Traffic Association and stating that it was to be desired that representatives of the association would appear before the board and explain the motives of their organization.

Leeds, on the adoption of the resolution, stated that his association would gladly impart the needed information to the board. The association, he said, was working for the best interests of the whole State.

A LOS ANGELES LOT.

It Figures in the Settlement of Clark Crocker's Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Mrs. Julia Crocker was authorized by Judge Coffey, in the matter of the estate of Clark W. Crocker, to accept a deed from Metcalf Dodsworth to a lot in the city of Los Angeles at the southwest corner of Sixth and Main streets. Dodsworth owed Crocker $10,000 and gave a note on January 28, 1890, and a deed of trust to sell the lot in case of non-payment. The property was mortgaged for $20,000 in the German Bank, but having found that it is worth $28,000, he paid the bank $20,000 and now holds the mortgage. Dodsworth is insolvent and desirous of conveying in satisfaction of all indebtedness.

San Quentin Contracts Awarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—This afternoon the State Board of Prison Directors held a special meeting for the purpose of awarding contracts for furnishing machinery for the jail mill at San Quentin. The report of Engineer Eckart was read, and the recommendation was made that there be no change in the style of machines now in use. The contract for furnishing, spinning and weaving machinery was awarded to the Fairburn Naylor Machine Company of Leeds, for $7820. The contract for furnishing 100 looms was awarded to the Oakland Iron Works for the sum of $17,570. Robertson & Orchard of Dundee were awarded a contract for furnishing one machine for $3211.

An Old Miner Killed.

YREKA, April 4.—Ben O'Connell, an aged miner residing about ten miles west of here, had been missing for several days, but it was supposed he was in Eureka. On finding out that this was not so a party of miners went to his mine, where they found a large cave or which they turned a stream of water, and washed out the body last night.

Not the Greenwood Murderer.

NAPA, April 4.—Sheriff McKenzie has received a photograph of a man arrested in Idaho, suspected of being the missing Greenwood murderer. He is not the man wanted. The man arrested is a German, while the one wanted is an American.

Bay Rum.

[Garden and Forest.]

Bay rum is manufactured in Dominica from the dried leaves of pimenta acris. Bay rum is procured by distillation, and this in a very simple manner. The leaves are picked from the trees and then dried; in this state they are placed in the retort, which is then filled with water and the process of distillation is carried on. The vapor is then condensed in the usual way and forms what is known as "bay oil," a very small quantity of which is required for each puncheon of rum. The manufacture of bay rum is carried on at the northern end of Dominica and proves a very lucrative business to those engaged in it, as the plants are plentiful in this district.

The Man Who Shot the Horse.

Several days ago a horse belonging to Mrs. Hunter was killed by a bullet from some one, and a boy named Willis Finch was charged with the offense. The boy denied that he was the guilty party, and Humane Officer Wright has since been looking up the offender. He last night succeeded in locating the man, whose name is Fry, and who lives at No. 1115 Alvarado street. Fry either acknowledged or denied the offense, but the neighbors are positive that he is the guilty party, and the matter will be laid before the District Attorney today.

Starting an Apiary.

[American Cultivator.]

Hives and frames being ready for the bees in the spring of the year, beginners must go into the market and buy their bees for the new apiary. If economy is to be exercised it should be understood that the cheapest colonies of bees are not always the most economical. In the spring bees in box hives can be bought in for little money, and a colony can be purchased for from $10 to $20. An old experienced apiarist may take such a cheap colony and make money out of it, but a beginner would lose every time. It is better to get the bees as near at home as possible, and from some one whose advice is reliable. The common brown or black bee, our native, is a good one to start with if a fine colony is secured. The Italian bees are better in many respects, but they are expensive, and it is not advisable for one to get a whole colony of these at first.

After the native bees are obtained it is a comparatively easy matter to change them into Italian bees. A bee's life runs only four or five weeks in the busy season, and in six weeks or less after an Italian queen has been introduced to a native colony the brown bees have lived and die, and the young of the foreign queen appear very rapidly. From 1000 to 2000 a day of the new bees appear, until it is impossible to find a single native bee left. The foreign queen, however, should not be introduced until the bees are well established, and the colony seems to be doing well. In this way one can get an expensive colony started in a short time without a great initial cost.

HELEN WEARBURD.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin has rudely upset the recent Democratic gerrymander. It would appear from the court's decision that the constitution of Wisconsin was violated in the law of apportionment for the Assembly and Senate districts, and that the whole act, including the Congressional apportionment, is unconstitutional and void. This will render necessary a special session of the Legislature unless the Democrats become disheartened and conclude to let the old Republican apportionment stand.

The Millinery Department was first purchased we made up our mind to make this the leading department for the advertisement and advancement of our business. Millinery is something that every lady is interested in. It is an article that every child is interested in. If properly handled it is a department that is capable of exerting a powerful influence for the good of all other departments of the house. With this object in view we went to considerable expense in fitting and furnishing, a complete and large new stock was put in, no expense was spared in procuring an artistic trimmer, capable and reliable help was put in charge of the salesroom, a scaling down of prices was made, and a radical overturning of the usual methods of conducting a Millinery business was made; our opening followed. If a hat is marked at $1.50, flower at $1.00; ornament at 50c, ribbon at 75c, trimming at 25c, it aggregates $4.00, and this is exactly the price we charge. To charge $6 or $7 for the hat is not good business and cannot succeed. If you expect to pay $10, $15 or $20 for a hat worth one-half the money we cannot expect your custom. If you are willing to pay the real value of an article we certainly invite you to come and see. One thing you are sure of, and that is good treatment, honest methods, willing hands to show you and to please you if possible. If you prefer to look elsewhere we want you; you are almost sure to come back. We give you fine Millinery artistically trimmed at a moderate and reasonable price. We show you the largest stock in the city in the finest and largest Millinery room. If you want an untrimmed hat, a frame, or a little lace or ribbon, the same attention is given as though you wanted to purchase the highest-priced hat in the city. Professor—
Dion Romandy.

LOS ANGELES has entertained numbers of fine musicians in recent years, but it is doubtful if there is one of higher ability than the gentleman who heads this article.

Dion Romandy is a Hungarian, and was born in Hungary, Austria, December 10, 1862. He studied music at the conservatory in Budapest, and after completing his course of study played in the orchestra of Strauss, the famous composer. Later on he organized his own orchestra and played numerous engagements all over Austria. His fame reached America and he was engaged by the Orpheum in 1888 to come to San Francisco, bringing with him the famous Hungarian Electrical Orchestra. After a long and successful engagement in San Francisco he came to Los Angeles under engagement to the Palace, where he became a popular favorite.

Prof. Romandy has composed numerous dances and concert music, but his best work is the opera, "Allan Quartermain," written when he could not speak a word of English. His other operas are "Sheepfoot," a fairy opera, and "Phoebus," a comic opera. All of these operas will soon be added to the repertoire of the Bostonians. Prof. Romandy has also composed several offertories for St. Vincent's Church of this city.

As a violinist he plays with exquisite expression—the instrument under his hands runs the whole gamut of the human soul. Every note is as clear as a bell, and the soul and life of music is heard in his delicate touch.

This famous artist will play every morning and afternoon this week at the Busy Bee Shoe House, and the ladies of Los Angeles are invited to come and listen to the delicious music. Extra seats have been provided and all are welcome. The concerts today commence at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The following is the programme for today:

PASADENA.

Shall the Schools Be Reopened or Closed?

The Simple Question that Confronts the Taxpayers.

Hunting Hereabouts not what it Used to Be.

Gus Williams in "Kiepler's Fortunes" News-Briefly Summed Up—Personal Notes of Interest.

[Branch office, No. 80 East Colorado street, where news, advertisements and orders for THE TIMES are received.]

The school question is what the people are talking most about at present. It resolves itself simply into a question of voting or of voting a special tax of $10,000, of reopening the schools for another two months or keeping them closed. So far back as the memory of man runneth not to the contrary there have been two school factions in Pasadena, who never fail when the occasion presents itself to strike out at each other straight from the shoulder. Last year when an election was called to vote a special tax to keep the schools running eight months, there was a warm contest, and now there is "the same thing over again." The Board of Trustees have submitted a lengthy statement which covers the ground pretty thoroughly, showing why an additional $10,000 is necessary to keep the schools open for a longer term. There are citizens who would rather pay double the amount asked than see the schools close, and there are others who do not hesitate to express their disapproval of the proposed measure.

One side approves the present administration and is impressed with the importance of keeping the schools open at what cost; the other side prefers charges of extravagance against the present management, and argues that greater economy must be practiced.

The present crisis is an important one. In voting, the one question at issue should be kept squarely before the mind, and that is whether or not the schools should be kept open at a cost of $10,000 of property in this district to keep the schools open the full term, so that the past winter's work may not be lost to the pupils. All other questions are side issues at present, which will be affected in no way whatever by the result of next week's election, and this is what the voters want to remember when they cast their ballots.

AN EVENING BLAZE.

An alarm of fire was turned in from box 13, corner of Fair Oaks and Colorado street, shortly before 8 o'clock yesterday evening. The department responded promptly, but before they had reached the scene Henry Seward's stables, which are just across the track from the Terminal station, were ablaze from end to end. Three horses that were kept in the building were killed, but one or two of the vehicles were destroyed, besides a ton and a half of hay belonging to Mr. Mitchell and several bales of hay belonging to another party, besides a variety of other articles of minor value. The stables were of frame and were located in close proximity to other structures of a combustible character, as well as the frame building, and before they had spread beyond the stables.

A lantern caused the fire. It was carried by a boy, who went in to feed one of the horses. Not having reached the stable, he turned it over to the side of the stall. This caused the flames to flare up, burning his hand, whereupon he dropped the lantern and the fire naturally resulted. The fire caused great excitement, and the people turned out en masse to the scene. Prompt and effective work was done by the department.

NOT WHAT IT USED TO BE.

Speaking of the local hunting club a citizen who came here before the railroad did, when access to Los Angeles was by stage and when this settlement could boast of only one burg, said a few days ago: "This hunting party is not what it used to be. When I used to hunt we would start off with a party of from eighty to 100, all mounted for the chase. We did not ride over cultivated fields, but over wide stretches of waste land, where the acacia and trees such as live oaks and sycamores. Everybody was at home in the saddle those days and the chase was more exciting than at present."

Serving Juries an Expensive Piece of Business—Notes and Personal.

[THE TIMES branch office for Pomona is with G. H. Marshall, where news items, advertisements and subscriptions are received.]

Serving juries is expensive business, if the report of yesterday be true. It is learned from a reliable source that Deputy Sheriff Rowland of Puente, who summoned the special venire in the Copeland case, will present a bill against the city for $315 for services, expenses, etc., at the next regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night. If this be true, and we think it is, there will likely be some lively times with the City Fathers before they allow the bill. Taking all things in consideration, won't the next session have lots of business to dispose of? The petition for calling a new election will be discussed and the $40,000 worth of bonds, etc., talked about. However, our City Council will handle matters in their usual prompt and decisive manner.

[Branch office at Stewart Hotel news stationers, news, advertisements and orders for THE TIMES are received.]

At San Timoteo, a little place in the cañon by the same name near the Southern Pacific Railroad about twelve miles east of here, a fatal affray took place on Sunday afternoon. It appears that two greasers, Garcia and Chavez, had been imbibing very freely at the saloon, as was their wont, and became involved in an altercation. Observing that their talk had become too loud, a bystander stepped between them in a vain effort to subdue their anger. Garcia thereupon drew a huge knife and proceeded to butcher his opponent literally over the would-be peacemaker's shoulder. Having received a very serious wound through the chest and into the root of his tongue, Chavez pulled his pistol and emptied six rounds of cold lead into Garcia's carcass, leaving him a corpse at his feet. Constable Riva of Redlands was summoned, and put Chavez under arrest. Deputy Sheriff McVaine and Constable Paris of this city were also soon upon the scene, as was Dr. Bene. The latter pronounced the wounds of Chavez serious and would not permit him to be removed to San Bernardino, but he was brought in yesterday and placed in the Sisters' Hospital. He has been for ten years in the employ of Mr. Singleton.

A Public Convenience that is Demanded at Once.

Given Two Years in San Quentin—Bailout Ascent at Anaheim—Lively Runaway Sunday Afternoon—News Notes and Personal.

SANTA ANA.

[Branch office at No. 200 West Fourth street, where subscriptions and advertisements are taken.]

Appropos of the discussion of public parks for the city may be mentioned the growing necessity of public hitching squares for the accommodation of farmers who come to town to do their trading, and upon whom depends the material prosperity of any agricultural or horticultural community. The frequency of runaways upon the principal streets makes it decidedly dangerous to life and property to have the curbside lined with vehicles, and besides this danger it is unsightly and inconvenient for the masses of the people. The merchants are bored by the presence of teams in front of their stores from morning until night, and the owners of the teams are in constant dread of a mishap or collision with a pair of runaways. The fact that there are not sufficient ranges in the sidewalk to accommodate the large number of teams that come to the city two or three days each week makes the matter of looking after a horse and carriage while in the city a source of constant worry and inconvenience.

Several months ago this matter was brought before the City Trustees, and several places in the city were recommended to the board as suitable for public hitching squares. Owners of the property recommended, in a few instances, were seen and their permission secured for thus using their lots. All this was done and reported to the Board of Trustees four or five months ago, at which time the board appointed a committee of one of its members to investigate the matter and report at a subsequent meeting. An investigation was made and, to the surprise of the investigator, the use of some of the most available locations, where teams are residents of the city, was absolutely refused for this purpose. The trustees had arranged to put up a large number of racks, so the reporter has been informed by City Clerk Tedford, but their inability to secure permission to use vacant lots for that purpose completely balked their efforts and the matter was dropped. "The trustees are willing now," said Mr. Tedford, "to put up and keep in repair hitching-racks to accommodate all, if land in suitable places can be leased for that purpose, the trustees agreeing to reimburse the owner at any time at the request of the owner by having ten days' notice of the owner's intention to terminate the lease." This is certainly a fair proposition, and the trustees should be given an opportunity to make this much-needed improvement.

LOOKING FOR A LEADER.

Ominous Quest of Mr. Harrison's Republican Opponents.

Clarkson, Reed, Quay and Dudley Antagonize the President.

They are Seeking a Candidate to Defeat His Renomination.

Senator Platt and John Sherman—McKinley Can Have Ohio's Vote—Other Candidates Canceled.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—[Special correspondence of the Chicago Herald, Dem.] A score of well-known and influential Republicans in Washington and elsewhere are rejoicing over the return of Senator Quay. They are eager to know what he intends to do in the way of opposing the ambitions of President Harrison to a renomination. Mr. Quay will be ready to talk to him in a day or two. He will begin the fight on Harrison by opposing the pending Pennsylvania nominations. The opponents of the President appear to be very quiet of late, but this is only because they are of necessity playing a waiting game. They are more than ever determined to find some candidate with whom they can defeat Harrison, but the absence of Quay and Clarkson, owing to illness in both cases, has heretofore made it impossible for the President's enemies to put their plans into operation. It is now said that both of these shrewd Republican leaders will be ready with the coming of the early blossoms to inaugurate the anti-Harrison movement in earnest. In the meantime the less conspicuous but not the less enthusiastic and effective Republicans who are in the field against the President are doing all in their power to create a sentiment in the various States that will prevent the pledging of administration delegates. The plan of the anti-Harrison men is to create as long a list of "favorite sons" as possible in order to scatter the votes of the delegates in the hope of being able to finally concentrate them upon some candidate of their own.

Senator Cameron is as bitter in his enmity to the President as his colleague, Senator Quay, and just as anxious to prevent his nomination. There seems to be no doubt, moreover, that these men will succeed in using the Pennsylvania delegation in such a way as to greatly embarrass Mr. Harrison's chances of renomination. Mr. Cameron had been confined to his room for several weeks until yesterday, and during his convalescence from severe sickness the old-fashioned house on Madison place, next door to Mr. Blaine's, has been the scene of many conferences, at which the anti-Harrison movement has been talked over fully. No determination as to a candidate has been arrived at, but Mr. Quay will be informed of what has been said and will be ready soon to map out a plan of action.

NEED AGAINST HARRISON. The Washington Republicans who are most earnest in the attempt to find a candidate whom the anti-Harrison men can support and nominate are Senators Quay, Cameron, Washburn, Cullom, Wolcott, Teller, Stewart, Pettigrew and Power and Representative Tom Reed, while the outsiders include a long list of once strong politicians, headed by Col. Dudley, all of whom the President saw fit to turn down as soon as he was warm in the White House chair. The ex-Speaker is as bitter in his opposition to Harrison as any of the Senators named, if not more so, and he takes no secret of the fact that he stands ready to render any assistance in his power toward the success of the anti-Harrison movement. Mr. Reed has been in Maine for the last week, and is said not to be at all discouraged by what he learned there of the political situation. It is not altogether unlikely, indeed, that he may be the most influential man in the Maine delegation to the Minneapolis convention.

From advice received by the anti-Harrison managers they are confident that there will be four or five candidates before the convention and two or three in the background, who can have the solid support of their respective States whenever it is apparent that there is even a fighting chance to defeat Harrison. Illinois, it is calculated, will present Cullom; New Hampshire, Blair; Michigan, Alger, and Ohio either McKinley or Sherman. Wisconsin will be united in favor of the nomination of Secretary Rusk, and will only be dissuaded from making him a candidate at the start by the sentiment that he is duty bound to remain loyal to his chief as long as the latter has any chance of success. The delegates from Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, Montana and other States can easily be brought into line to support an anti-administration candidate who has a fair prospect of success. The men, however, have not yet been found, and the task of finding him gives the greatest concern to the anti-Harrison managers.

PLATT OPPOSES SHERMAN. The question to which they all now seek an answer is, what will Tom Platt do and who is his candidate? It would, the anti-administration men say, be a comparatively easy matter to dispose of Harrison if New York and Pennsylvania should head the opposition with solid delegations, or even with a determined majority of those delegations opposed to his nomination. It is already known what Quay will be willing to do, but there is no such certainty with regard to Mr. Platt. Many Republicans have been to him of late, endeavoring to learn his intentions, but they have not succeeded in their mission. The reason given by one of these visitors is that Mr. Platt does not know himself what he wants to do. He knows that he does not want to have Mr. Harrison renominated, but further than that he is entirely undecided. When Senator Hiscok was in New York recently, he had a long and not very amiable chat with Mr. Platt on the subject of the Presidential nomination, at which the discovery was made that these two members of the big four are very suspicious of each other. Mr. Platt, according to a prominent Republican who has since talked with him, accused Senator Hiscok of attempting to play a double game by pretending to be opposed to Harrison's renomination while leading the President to think that in return for a few crumbs of patronage he would use in his interest what little influence he possesses with the New York state Republicans. Mr. Hiscok of course endeavored to placate Mr. Platt by making as plausible a defense of himself as possible, but the two big Republicans parted without having arrived at a satisfactory understanding as to their past or future transactions.

To another Senatorial caller Mr. Platt made no secret of the fact that he would like to take an anti-Harrison delegation to Minneapolis, but that he almost despaired of finding a proper candidate. The names of Sherman, Alger,

I purchased samples of the Royal Baking Powder, which I examined chemically and compared with others bought at the same time.

I detected in it no impurity or adulteration. It is uniform, pure, reliable.

I find one pound of the Royal to contain 200 cubic inches more available Carbonic Acid gas than the best of the others.

McKinley, Rusk and one or two others were talked over at length, and their good and bad qualities as candidates were minutely discussed. At the outset of the conversation Mr. Platt surprised his caller by stating that he was unalterably opposed to the nomination of John Sherman. This statement was a surprise, because within the last few weeks there has been a decided Sherman boom in Washington, based chiefly on the report brought from New York by a Democratic Senator that Sherman was Mr. Platt's favorite as a candidate. Mr. Platt has stated, however, in the strongest possible language that under no circumstances will any New York delegates be for Sherman with his consent.

As to McKinley there is some doubt. Even Mr. Sherman admits that if the Governor says the word he can have the support of the Ohio delegation, and there can be no doubt of his strength outside of the Buckeye State. The merits of Messrs. Alger and Cullom as candidates were presented in as favorable a light as possible, but many objections were found to them both. The publication of Gen. Alger's peculiar war record, if nothing else, puts him out of the question, and Mr. Cullom has as yet been totally unable to demonstrate that he can get the delegation from his own State. He will be a good enough Morgan until after the convention, however, and the anti-Harrison men will do nothing to discourage his candidacy.

The men who want to defeat Harrison are numerous, earnest and strong, but their strength is scattered and they admit that they will find it a difficult task to concentrate it, chiefly because it is so hard to find a suitable candidate. They mean to persevere, however, and they hope to be able to take some definite step now that Mr. Quay has returned from Florida. They will appear at Minneapolis in full force whether they succeed in finding their man before June or not.

INSPECTION SOLICITED.

Our Method a Success—The Hit of the Season.

By adopting the principles of the time-worn adage, "Quick sales and small profits," has brought unqualified success. Thousands of ladies cheerfully testify that Mozart's style and quality of millinery is equal to any in this city. Others may copy our styles, but none our low prices.

It is absurd for ladies to pay high prices for millinery when at Mozart's the identical same hat, the same flowers and the same style may be had for much less price, sometimes 50 per cent. less than many other places. No store can find and sell cheap unless they handle the quantities. We claim to sell more millinery than any two stores in the millinery line in this city; therefore we can exist on smaller profits than any competitor. In all candor we ask you to come and see for yourselves.

The hit of the season has been our special sale of a hat and flower at 50 cents for both, in all colors and all sizes and many shapes. The same would be considered cheap at $1 elsewhere.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Large Amount of Routine Business Transacted.

Regular Reports of Officers and Committees Submitted.

The Matter of the Widening of Seventh Street Discussed.

Numerous Changes in the Report of the Commissioners Recommended—Street Work Ordered—Money for the Schools.

The City Council met in regular session yesterday morning at the usual time and place, every ward, with the single exception of the First, being represented.

After the usual preliminaries had been disposed of, a brief message was received from Mayor Hazard, returning unapproved, the ordinance of intention to improve a portion of Pasadena avenue, in accordance with the request of some of the members of the Council, who proposed to introduce an ordinance authorizing the property-owners to do the work by private contract.

Upon motion of Councilman Innes, the vote by which the ordinance had been adopted was reconsidered and the matter was thereupon laid upon the table.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

The reports of the City Clerk and Tax and License Collector, showing the issuance of 2062 licenses for the month of March last, of which ninety were returned uncollected, were referred to the City Auditor.

That of the City Tax and License Collector showing that fourteen of the twenty-nine delinquent licenses for February last had been returned uncollected, was also referred to the City Auditor.

That of the Water Overseer, showing the collection of $70.50 in fees during the month of March last, and the receipt of $50.25 from P. Dunn et al., for half the expenses incurred in fluming the Washington street ditch, was also referred to the City Auditor.

Those of City Justice Austin, showing the collection of $144.37 in fees and fines during March last; City Justice Owens, $45.50; Clerk Chambers of the Police Court, $418, and Superintendent of Buildings Muchmore, $87.50, were also referred.

Councilman Summerland moved that the City Clerk communicate with Contractor Deegan as to whether or not he would give up his contract with the city for the removal of the roof of the Macy street bridge.

Upon motion of Councilman Rhodes, however, the motion was laid on the table.

CITY CLERK'S REPORT.

The City Clerk reported as follows: In the matter of opening, widening and extending Broadway from Ninth street to a point on the west line of Main street, the Commissioners filed with me their report on the 25th day of February, 1892. Due notice of the filing of said report has been published. James B. Lankershim has filed a protest against the confirmation of said report, and this is the only protest filed. Mrs. Anna Ogier protests against the opening of the street. It will be necessary for you to set a day for hearing the objection of Mr. Lankershim.

The matter was set for hearing at 2 o'clock p.m. on Monday next, and referred to the Board of Public Works for investigation meanwhile.

Action upon the awarding of the contract for paving Pearl street between Sixth and Pico streets comes up at this time for your consideration, in accordance with order heretofore made. [Action deferred for one week.]

In the matter of constructing sidewalks on Twenty-second street, Council has twice invited proposals to do this work and no proposals have been received. I ask that action be taken looking toward the abandonment of these proceedings, in order that the printed bills may be settled.

After some debate the proceedings were ordered abandoned. Messrs. McGarry, Rees and Summerland voting in the minority.

In the matter of constructing a sewer on Rockwood street: At a meeting of the Council held March 26, 1892, the protest of D. C. Roberts et al. against the projected work was denied and overruled, and the Clerk was instructed to present ordinance ordering the work proceeded with, which ordinance I herewith present. Ordinance adopted.

In the matter of constructing a sewer on Belmont avenue: The ordinance of intention was published February 18, 1892, and notice of street work was published March 2, 1892. No protests have been received against this work being proceeded with, and I herewith present ordinance ordering the work, for your action. Ordinance adopted.

WATER OVERSEER.

The water overseer report, which was referred to the Zanja Committee, was as follows:

I would report that in the matter of the raising of the water rate of Evergreen Cemetery, the association has paid for the month of January, but refuses to pay for February and March, owing to the fact that their reservoir was disconnected during those two months, owing to repairs on the reservoir and pipe, and is willing to pay from April 1 the rate fixed by the Council.

I have notified the owners of the Toberman reservoir to close the same, but they refuse to do so, on the ground that the city assumed control of the same in 1886, when they granted the use thereof to the city for supplying water for the Sixth Street Park.

I would also report that the owners of the Jones reservoir refuse to pay $15 per month, the rate fixed by your honorable body, and tendered $6 (the rate charged heretofore) for the month of March, which I refused to accept.

PAVING SUPPORTS.

A lengthy communication was received from O. J. Muchmore, Superintendent of Buildings, with reference to that from the Painters' Union, which had been referred to him, in which he stated that for three years past it had been very evident to him that the applicants used by mechanics have been of a frail, scanty and oftentimes dangerous character, and suggesting that an ordinance be drawn providing for their protection in this matter. The letter was referred back with instructions to prepare an ordinance in conjunction with the City Attorney.

The City Assessor reported, recommending that the petition of Elizabeth Adams with reference to the redemption of lot 10, in block E of the Morris Vineyard tract, which was found to be assessed, with three others, at $320, be referred to the City Attorney.

The Board of Fire Commissioners reported, recommending that the bid of Blaisdell & Sprague for a site for an engine house near First street and Belmont avenue be accepted. The matter was referred back to the board, there being a protest against the site.

The board also recommended that the petition of Mrs. M. Harris et al., for the inclusion of block B of the Fort Hill tract and lots 4, 5, 6, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of block A of the Mott tract, in fire district No. 1, be granted. Referred to the City Attorney.

MONEY FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES.

A communication was received from the Board of Education asking the Council to set aside the sum of $18,500 for school purposes, stating that the funds at the disposal of the board were only sufficient to run the schools until June 1 next, which would make only an eight-months' session, and that the amount asked was necessary to run the schools for the ninth month. Upon motion of Councilman Rees the matter was referred back to the board, with a request that an itemized statement of the moneys yet to be received from all sources be furnished.

The ordinance regulating the standing of peddlers' wagons on the streets, as amended, was called up, but action thereon was deferred for one week.

POLICE PATROL WAGON.

The following bids for a new police patrol wagon were received, opened and referred to the Supply Committee and Board of Police Commissioners jointly: S. W. Luitweiler, $450, top, $75 extra; Hawley, King & Co., $475, top $50 extra; Richard Moloney, $500, top $50 extra; Hobbs & Richardson, $575, top $80 extra.

The reports of the Finance Committee and Board of Public Works, as heretofore published in THE TIMES, were adopted as read.

The Mayor's message of March 28 last, vetoing the ordinance of intention to open Maple avenue, was taken up and, upon motion of Councilman Alford, the ordinance was filed.

The City Assessor reported having collected $2642.20 for city taxes during the month of March last, in accordance with section 64 of ordinance 630. Referred to the City Auditor.

The Street Superintendent asked that an ordinance of intention to sidewalk the east side of New High street, between Temple and Franklin streets, be passed, as the same was a source of much complaint. The suggestion was adopted, and the matter referred to the City Engineer with directions to present the necessary ordinances.

MOTIONS.

Upon motion of Councilman Innes, the water overseer was directed to furnish the Council with monthly statements of the cost of the new sidewalks in connection with his office.

Councilman Summerland moved that the City Clerk be directed to advertise for bids for furnishing the city with drugs for one year. Adopted.

Upon motion of Councilman Alford the Board of Fire Commissioners was requested to put up the new alarm boxes on the corners of Twelfth street and Central avenue, and Washington street and Central avenue, and all others heretofore ordered as soon as practicable.

The same member moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to close up the storm water drain at the corner of Ninth and Main streets, and put in a two-inch pipe so as to draw the gutter after a storm, and close up the manhole of the storm water drain at the crossing of Sixth and Wall streets. Referred to City Engineer.

Upon motion of Councilman Rhodes the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company was notified to remove its track, ties, poles and wires from Pico street, between Flower street and Maple avenue, unless the road is operated within thirty days, and the Street Superintendent was directed to remove the same should the order not be complied with.

Councilman McGarry followed suit with a motion to the effect that the railroad company owning a track on Seventh street, between San Pedro and Alameda streets, be requested to operate or remove the same within thirty days, which was also adopted.

RECESS UNTIL 2 O'CLOCK P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Council met at 2 o'clock, with President Bonsall in the chair and a quorum present.

The special order for 2 o'clock, the hearing of protests against the confirmation of the report of the Commissioners for the widening of Seventh street, was taken up, when a supplemental report of the Board of Public Works on the matter was read, as follows:

In the matter of the Commissioners' report for the widening of Seventh street, we recommend, first, that the Commissioners be instructed to amend their report so as to allow Isaac Norton the sum of $10 as compensation for his foundation wall, and also that the amount for advertising be reduced from $100 to $48.75; that expert fees be reduced from $50 to $15; that the stationery be reduced from $50 to $30; that the Commissioners' fees be reduced from $1800 to $1235; that the clerks' fees be reduced from $800 to $550; that amount for preparing maps be reduced from $100 to $140, and that the Commissioners be instructed to amend their report and read their recommendations in accordance with these recommendations. The above changes, if adopted, will reduce the expenses $786.25, less the amount allowed for wall of Isaac Norton.

J. B. Lankershim appeared and asked that he be given a week's further time, as his attorney had been out of town and he had been unable to get a hearing before the Board of Public Works. He briefly stated that he did not consider the assessments and awards equitable, and gave one or two instances in support of his assertion.

After some debate further action was postponed until Monday next at 2:30 o'clock, and the report was referred back to the Board of Public Works.

MOTIONS.

Councilman Innes moved that $3000 be transferred from the salary to the park fund. Carried.

Councilman Alford moved that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the use of reservoir site No. 5. Carried.

PESTHOUSE PROPOSITION.

In the matter of securing a proper location for a pesthouse, the Land Committee reported recommending the acceptance of the proposition of J. W. Potts to sell forty acres near the northwest corner of the city for $6000, provided that the Board of Supervisors pay half the amount, and further provided that the said J. W. Potts guarantee that the present hospital and grounds be sold for $8000.

After some general debate, on motion of Councilman Nickell, the Council went into Committee of the whole, Councilman Rees in the chair, to consider the proposition.

Councilman McGarry briefly explained that he had gone over the ground with Mr. Potts, and while he would not think of purchasing the land for himself as an investment, he favored the purchase for the purpose for which it was intended, principally on account of its isolated position.

Councilman Tufts and Nickell opposed the purchase on the ground that the price asked is excessive, as the value of the land is not over $2500.

Mr. Potts then addressed the Council at some length, explaining the advantages of his offer to the city. He stated that he himself paid $250 an acre in cash for the land, and he considered it cheap. Water could be put on the land for a nominal amount, and it was the best place that could be had in the county for the purposes for which it is intended. He had been through several smallpox epidemics, and he knew that he could have sold this land for almost any price if he had offered it at the right time. His offer is a liberal one, and the city could do as it pleased in the matter.

Councilmen Innes and Summerland favored the purchase of the land, while Councilmen Rhodes and Bonsall opposed it on the ground that the price is excessive, as the land is not worth anything like what is asked for it.

After more talk Councilman Rhodes moved that the matter be referred back to the Land Committee to confer with the Supervisors to see what they are willing to do, which motion was seconded by President Bonsall.

Councilman Rees briefly advocated the purchase of the land, after which the whole matter was referred back to the Land Committee.

Health Officer MacGowan also addressed the Council, saying that he knew nothing about the matter, except what he had seen in the papers. He knew nothing about Mr. Potts's land and could not say whether it is a suitable location for a hospital or not. He is opposed to going into partnership with the county.

The committee then rose, when the report of the committee was adopted, and regular business was proceeded with.

Councilman McGarry announced that the Terminal Railway Company invited the Council to inspect their levee on the east side of the river Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the members were requested to meet at the City Hall at the hour named.

At this point the pesthouse matter was again taken up, when another lengthy debate followed, after which the matter was taken from the Land Committee and all bids were rejected and the matter dropped.

STREET WORK.

An ordinance granting permission to property-owners to improve a portion of Pasadena avenue by private contract passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance of intention for the construction of a cement sidewalk on Angelena street, from Beaudry to Figueroa streets, passed.

An ordinance of intention establishing the grade of Burt street, from First to Temple streets, passed under suspension of the rules, as did also an ordinance of intention establishing the grade of Fanning street, from First to Temple streets.

A final ordinance changing and establishing the grade of Fourth street, from Hope to Grand avenue, passed under suspension of the rules, as did also the final ordinance establishing the grade of Bunker Hill avenue and Fourth street for twenty-five feet to secure proper drainage.

CRACKED SEWER PIPE.

The City Engineer reported that he had examined the work on section 4 of the central intercepting sewer and found that eighty-one joints of the pipe in a distance of 324 feet was cracked. He reported that all the work had been properly done, so far as the excavating, backfilling, etc.

Councilman Rhodes moved that the defective joints be removed and replaced at the city's expense, as the breakage had evidently been caused by an earthquake or some similar cause.

Councilman Innes was opposed to the city assuming any liability until the City Engineer has been thoroughly investigated.

City Engineer Dockweiler stated that the pipe had been thoroughly inspected, was of the best possible construction, and the work had been properly done. He could not say what caused the break. It had been suggested that the cracks had been caused by an earthquake, but as for himself he could not say what caused it. It was altogether unprecedented.

The Street Superintendent called attention to a mistake made by the City Engineer in giving the grades for the improvement of Court street from Lake Shore avenue to Figueroa street, by which the grade of Figueroa street was left about eight feet above the grade of Court street, thereby stopping traffic and leaving the street in such condition that accidents might occur that would render the city liable for damages. After talk, the City Engineer was instructed at once to correct the error and take the steps necessary to put the street in passable condition.

MRS. WATSON'S LOT.

A communication was read from R. H. F. Watari as attorney for Mrs. Harriet J. Watari, accepting the proposed offer of the Finance Committee to pay her $500 for the settlement of her claim against the city for failure of the city to carry out an alleged contract for the grading of her lot at the corner of Sand and Broadway streets, in consideration of the city being allowed to take the gravel therefrom.

Councilman Nickell moved that the communication be filed, when Councilman Rees stated that as the Committee on Finance had made this offer, he wanted to see its recommendation adopted.

The usual debate followed, when the whole matter was again gone over, as it had on numerous other occasions, several members insisting that the city is not bound, either legally or morally, to pay Mrs. Watson a cent, as her lot had been improved by the city and not damaged, while others thought that the city should pay the money as it was the cheapest way out of the difficulty.

The whole matter was finally, on motion of Mr. McGarry, laid on the table, and the Council adjourned.

The California Fruit Growers have definite information that the Delaware peach crop is not destroyed. It is not by any means out of danger, but the prospects are very favorable for a good crop. The report of a failure seems to have been instigated by mercenary motives.

FOWLE'S GOOD LUCK.

Attempted Assassination of a Police Officer.

A Crazy Woman Tries to Shoot Him in the Back.

The Insane Freak of Mrs. Emma Blumberg.

Made a Mistake in Her Cartridges, or the Officer Would Have Been a Dead Man—The woman Locked Up.

Officer Fowle is in luck, for nothing but good luck kept him from passing in his checks in anything but a romantic manner yesterday morning at a few minutes past 10 o'clock.

A well-dressed, middle-aged woman was noticed to dodge out of a stairway on Main street, between First and Second, as Fowle was patrolling his beat.

She walked a few steps behind the officer until he reached a point where there were but few people on the sidewalk, when she suddenly drew a 38-calibre bulldog pistol from her pocket, and placing it within a few inches of the unconscious officer's back she pulled the trigger.

The cartridge refused to explode and thus the "cop's" life was saved. He evidently did not hear the click of the revolver for he walked on as if nothing had happened.

The woman did not give up after her first attempt. She grew more and more excited as she snapped the pistol, and when she realized that there was something wrong with her cartridges she gave up chasing the officer and made her way to the store of the Harper-Reynolds Company and asked for cartridges. She was told that she would have to go to a gun store, and in a few minutes she was in Slaterbeek's.

She did not carry out her intention of reloading her pistol, as Officer Dunn, who had just been informed by a citizen that she was walking about the streets with a pistol in her hands, stepped in and placed her under arrest. The pistol was taken away from her and she was taken to the central station, where she was booked as an insane woman.

Officer Fowle knew nothing about his narrow escape until after the woman was locked up.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Emma Blumberg. She came down here from San Francisco several months ago, and has been working as a domestic in several prominent families.

Just after her arrival here Chief Crowley of San Francisco wrote to Chief Glass of this city, warning him against Mrs. Blumberg. The woman is crazy on the subject of police officers, and has an idea that they are all watching her. This is the first time she has attempted any acts of violence, and it was thought that she was a harmless crank.

She took a violent dislike to Fowle a few days ago when he lectured her for throwing a bottle through a window in a grocery store on account of a quarrel with one of the clerks, whom, she claimed had not given her good measure. It is supposed that she became so angry at Fowle when he lectured her that she armed herself with a pistol and waited for him.

The pistol is a center-fire bulldog, and by some mistake Mrs. Blumberg secured rim-fire cartridges, and of course the hammer had no effect on the cartridges. Had they been center-fire shells there is no doubt but that Fowle would have received a bullet in his back as the woman was so close that she could not have missed him.

Late in the day Mrs. Blumberg was taken to the County Jail, where she will be confined until she can be examined by the Insane Commissioners.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Money Wanted to Continue the Schools—To Advertise for Books.

The Board of Education met in regular session last night with Dr. Kierulff in the chair and Secretary Baker present. Secretary Baker stated that under instructions of the chairman of the Board he had made a demand on the Council for $18,000 for expenses during the ninth school year, which had been referred back to the board and asking for an itemized account of the expenses. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

It was stated by Supt. Friesner that the contract for school books will end the last of June, as new books will have to be adopted. On motion it was decided to advertise for books for sixty days, as the law requires that the time shall not be less.

Mrs. Portson was granted a leave of absence for the rest of the year.

Supt. Friesner stated that J. C. Pelton, the first teacher in the State, is publishing a book on early days in California, and he is anxious to visit the schools for the purpose of selling his books.

On motion he was granted permission. Supt. Friesner informed the board that a census marshal must be appointed by the next meeting of the board.

On motion, Davis, Hitchcock and Boal were appointed a committee of three to select a proper person for the position, and to report at the next meeting, when he must be elected.

Adjourned.

Shot Himself.

Last evening at 5 o'clock George Fancher, a sixteen-year-old boy who lives with his parents, was out shooting at birds with a 22-caliber pistol, when he met with a painful accident.

He had accidentally placed the pistol in his trousers pocket half-cocked and when he attempted to draw it out the thing exploded. The bullet entered the right leg near the groin and came to the surface at the knee.

Some friends hurried him to the receiving hospital, where Dr. Bryant operated on him. The bullet was removed and his wounds were dressed. Last evening he was resting easy and today he will be sent home.

Ladies' Annex.

The Ladies' Annex met in regular session yesterday afternoon.

The secretary read a number of communications concerning the questions of silk culture, and the ladies have concluded to take up the culture on as large a scale as possible. The name of the annex has been changed to the Ladies' Annex and World's Fair Association.

There will be a special meeting next Thursday to further discuss the silk question.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, April 4, 1892.

Arrivals of fresh eggs were light today and prices advanced. The supplies on hand have been pretty well cleared up and eggs this afternoon were scarce. Some sales were made as high as 20c, but most transactions were at 18c, and the latter figures about represent the real market price.

There was a firmer tone in the butter market today. Sales of fancy roll were generally at or near 40c, which has been the top price for some time past.

Poultry is somewhat scarce, but prices are unchanged.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the English grain trade says: "There is an average decline of 1s in English and foreign wheats. California cargoes are pressed for sale at 3s 9d. American flour has lost 1s. Corn was weak; American on passage, 20s. Barley was depressed; foreign grinding, 21s. At today's market English and American flour dropped 6d."

The following is a statement of the visible supply of grain on Saturday, April 4, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange:

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—[Special to the Times.] The vegetable market was quiet for green stuff today. Receipts were liberal and the prices easier. Asparagus was firmer. Tomatoes and rhubarb are both scarce, particularly the latter, as a strong shipping demand from the north exhausted the supplies.

The fruit market was very dull. Apples and oranges continue in over-supply and stocks were augmented by the receipt of three carloads of the former and one car of the latter.

Dried fruit, with the exception of a good demand for prunes, shows no change. Strawberries are in more liberal supply, eleven crates coming to hand this morning. The market for dairy produce remained in the same condition as during the past week. Butter was a little firmer, but supplies are still ample. Eggs are scarce and much firmer.
